Commission eyes housing needs

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

Determining the amount and type of apartment housing available in Antioch, deciding on an Executive Director for the Antioch Redevelopment Commission and reviewing the budget for 1985-86 were a few subjects covered at the commission meeting April 23.

The commission heard a presentation of a summary of area apartment houses, carried out through commission member Peter Thelan. This was done to determine how much rental housing is available, people that are in need of rental housing and if different types are needed.

"We found very few vacancies among rentals," said Chairman of the Commission Michael Warren.

The average age group who rented was between 35 and 45, with a strong segment of senior citizens, he explained.

The commission's 1985-86 budget will allow a provision for hiring an executive director. The newly formed position would entitle communicating with Kai Nebel, the TIF expert, overseeing the entire project as planned by the commission, and being a liaison to local merchants and property owners, the Chamber of Commerce and other community groups. The commission met in executive session about the new position but have not as yet decided on one.

The commission is presently working with the Chamber of Commerce to find ways to help fill the vacancies in Main Street.

Finally, a Redevelopment Commission logo is being reviewed for approval. The logo was created by commission members Mabel Lou Weber and Bob Wilton.

RV, Boat and Auto show promises to be big

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry is getting ready for the RV, Boat and Auto Show to be held May 23-25.

"It's the biggest thing that's happened in this area in a long time," said the chamber's advertising wiz Vince Giorgi.

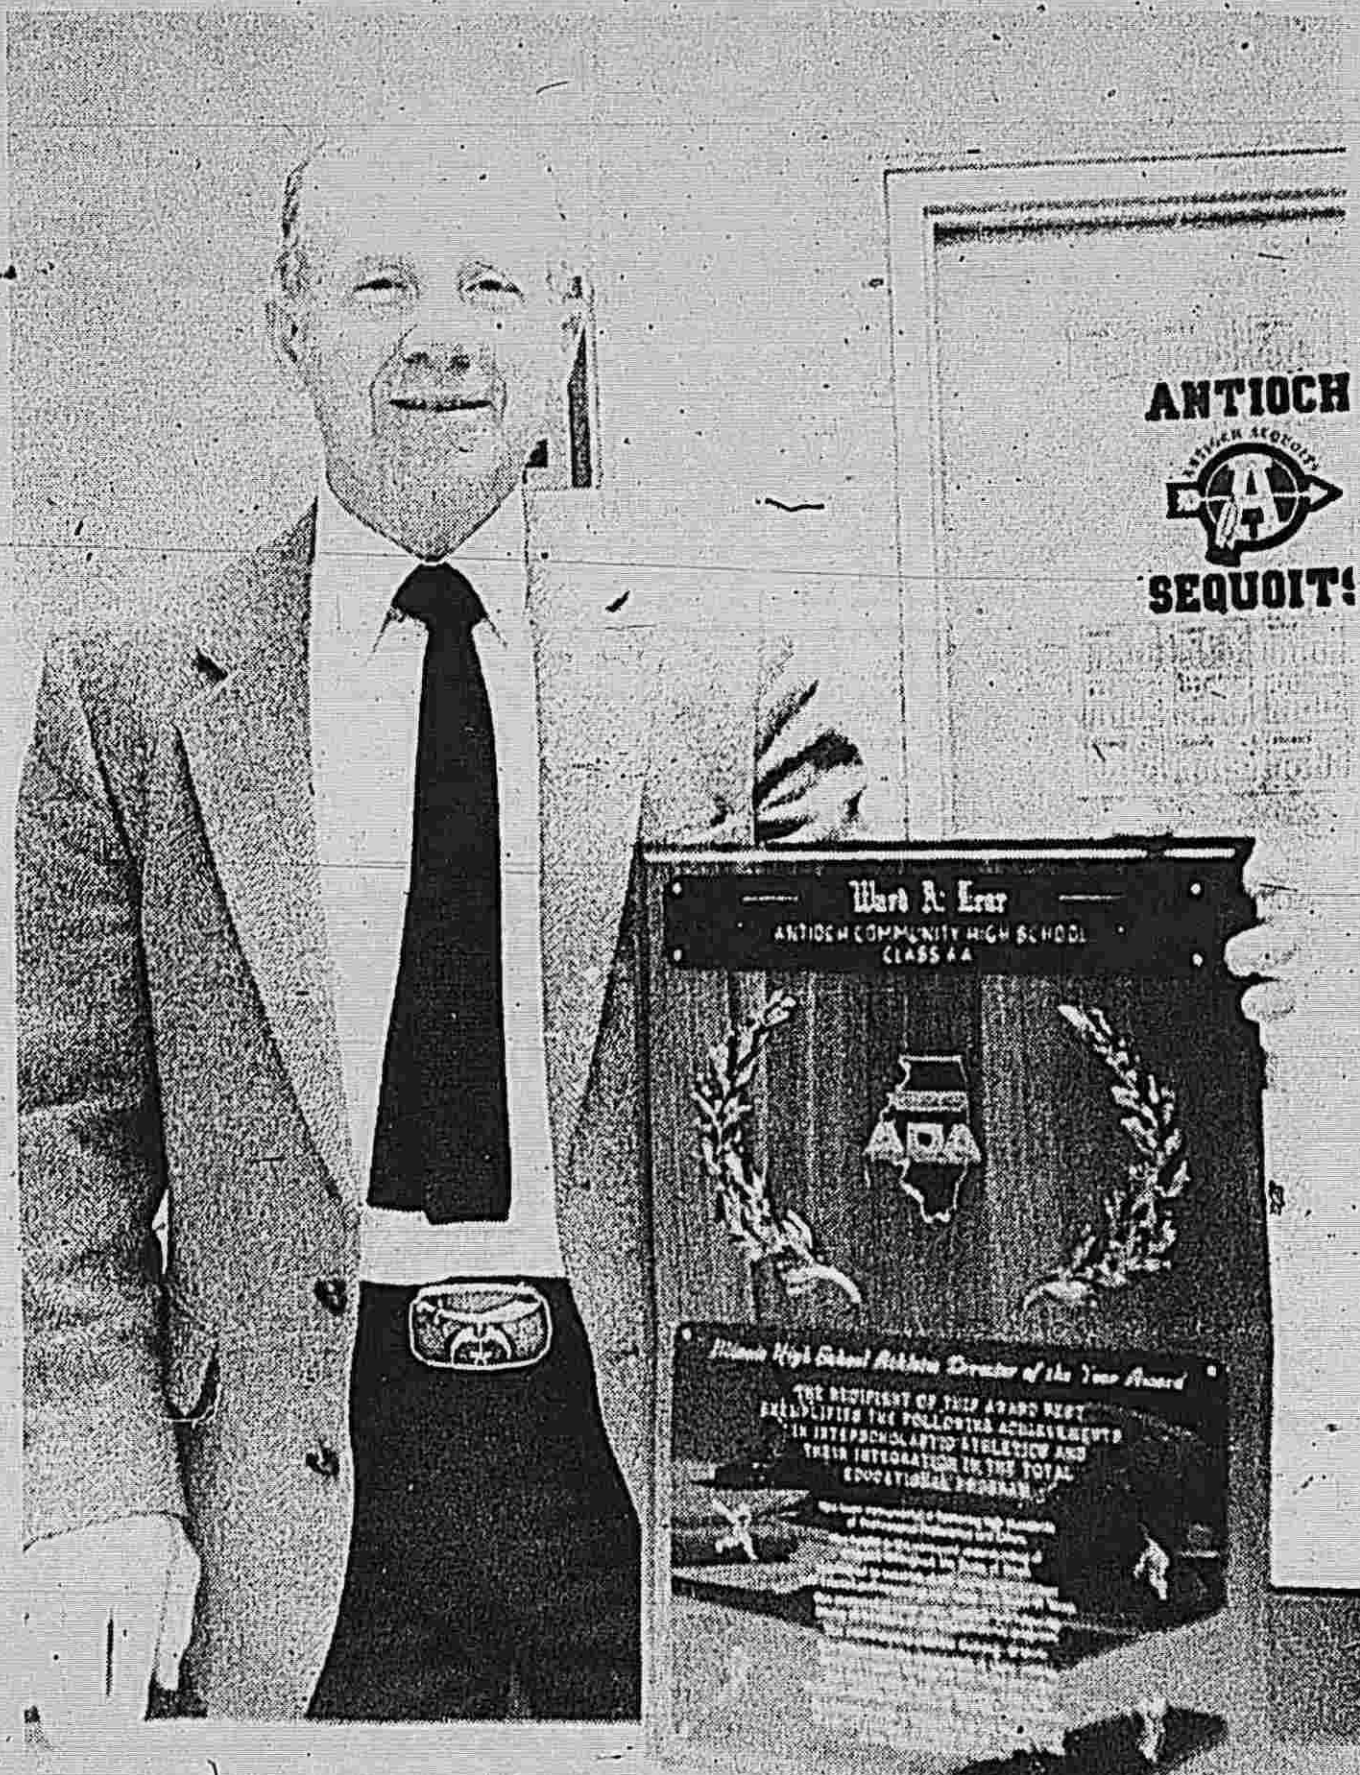

The show, to be held in the municipal parking lot, west of Toft Ave., will involve many area dealers, including; Raymond Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Lyons and Ryan Ford, Pittman Pontiac, Pedersen GMC, Hucker and Sons Chrysler, Hidden Cive, Sequoit Harbor, Fox Lake Harbor, and the Fun-in-Sun Marine.

Along with the tremendous display, a talent show will be held for everyone's enjoyment. The chamber is presently looking for local talent to 'come out of hiding' and entertain for their village.

The chairman of the event is Raymond Scarpelli of Raymond Chevrolet and co-chairman is Retail Chairman Larry Hanson.

For more information call the chamber of commerce at 395-2233.

Lear named Ill. director of year

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

Ward Lear, Antioch Community High School's Athletic Director of 28 years, has been chosen the Illinois High School Athletic Director of the Year.

Lear measures the success of his athletic programs at ACHS by "the amount of students participating, the enjoyment they get out of it and the improvement they show," he said.

He was chosen from fifty nominees for this prestigious title and received a plaque honoring him at a banquet April 22 at St. Charles in Pheasant Run. The final decision was based on a list of qualifications.

Going into his 36th year of involvement with high school sports (having seven years of coaching experience prior to coming to ACHS), Lear really enjoys his job and the students that make it all worthwhile.

In comparing teaching to running an athletic program, he said "It's a little different relationship (with the students). These are usually programs students really enjoy. I believe sports are a lesson all their own, but still have the philosophy that education (basic) comes first."

ACHS currently offers a variety of nine boys and ten girls athletic programs with 40 percent of the students completing at least one program.

"This is something considering the size of the school," said Lear. ACHS currently has 1,700 students.

Next year girl's soccer will be added to the list of activities.

Even after 28 years in the same position Lear feels that "the good days far out weigh the bad and things never get dull."

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I know the whole community is in sorrow over the loss of young Peter Weber. Our heartfelt sympathy goes to his wonderful family and friends. Our hope is that God grant you the strength in this trying time.

Once again, Ken Smouse had a spectacular performance at Antioch High School with his production of "The Music Man". Retirement can not stop creativity and the community is planning to see more of his work even after official retirement.

Has everyone noticed the front of the Las Vegas Restaurant? It is such a lovely sight to see. Our Main Street is lookin' goood!

Lots and lots of birthdays the first week of May. I understand Dee Lang and Sue Koppa will be another year older on the fourth. Lynda Fields will celebrate the sixth. Joe and Louise Gutowski will celebrate 29 years on the fifth with nephew Dave Gutowski and wife Barrie who celebrate their first year on the same day.

Make sure you get your tickets for the Jaycee Installation Dinner Dance on May fourth at the The Tower Room. Call Matt Branyik for information at 395-8840. The Jaycees are celebrating 25 years of service to the community and you will hear the names of past presidents that all of you will remember. There will be a special recognition for Glenda Tomaszchik, director of Antioch Parks and Recreation and the Antioch Advertiser that evening. Sounds like a fun night.

Don't forget Sunday May 19 from 2 until 4 p.m. there will be a retirement reception in honor of Superintendent Warren Polley in the high school commons. The public is invited to attend. Another wonderful man retiring and we wish him well!

Everyone heard the commotion at the village hall Monday evening during village board as a birthday cake was brought in for Marilyn Sterbenz who turned 55 and Don Amundsen who turned 50. It was unanimous that 55 means a 10 for Marilyn!

Retail group honors mom

Aside from appreciating the warm weather and sunshine this is also the time of year when we appreciate 'mom'.

With Mother's Day May 11, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce Retail Group will be honoring mom by holding a drawing that weekend with special prizes for this special winner.

A get-away weekend to Lake Geneva, care of the Abbey of Lake Geneva and a china plate from Pickard China, specially designed, will be presented to the winner May 10.

To enter, stop at any of the following retail members business: The Advertiser, Antioch Family Sport Center, Antioch True Value, Antioch Wallcovering, Barnsables Dept. Store, Ray Franklin Family Center, BJ's Fashions For Men (or the sports center), Gibbs and Jenssen Carousel, The Globe, Hahn Jewelers, Inland Outlytey, Jack's Four Squires, Johnson Jewelers, Antioch Reporter, McDonald's Restaurant, Meta's Candies, Polson's Dietary Foods, St. Ignatius Church, Tony White Shoes Ebb Tides or Kings Drug.

'Friends' hold meeting

Doug Ploss, local artist and author, was the guest speaker at the April meeting of the Antioch Library Friends. The group, one of many nationwide, has recently been organized and held it's first annual meeting April 15.

The 1985-86 officers of the Antioch Library Friends are Kerry Astar, president; Kennedy, treasurer. Joyce Henneberry, vice president; Karen Chilcote, secretary; and Kathleen the library meeting room.

The Time Machine

TEN YEARS AGO:
April 16, 1975

Officer Fred Herdt retired from the Antioch Police Force. He was the crossing guard the last four years. He moved to his daughter's farm in Herscher.

Paul Revere's historic ride was re-enacted in Antioch, 200 years after the ride. This was a beginning to the upcoming bicentennial celebration.

Women's Club to meet

The St. Peter of Antioch Women's Club will meet on Tuesday, May 7 in the Church at 6:30 p.m. The evening will begin with the May crowning of the Blessed Virgin followed by the Living Rosary and Benediction. This is a beautiful ceremony everyone is invited to attend.

The business meeting and election of officers will take place in Father Frawley Hall. There will also be a Baby Shower to benefit St. Theresa Staffer's Program.

New and used clean baby clothes, maternity clothes, all baby necessities and cash donations will be appreciated.

Program Chairman Mike Gross will present a fashion show with spring and summer styles from Four Squires, featuring models from St. Peters.

Refreshments will be served and all of the women of the parish are invited to attend.
